▸ PRIVATE INVESTIGATION

How can we help you?

We exclusively handle matters for private individuals. Each case is analyzed individually, confidentially, and documented, using investigation methodology, information analysis, and technological tools within the applicable legal framework.

Partner Investigation

Discreet investigation to clarify doubts, document facts and build an objective chronology with legally obtained evidence.

Location of people and assets

We locate people or assets through precise and confidential methods, information analysis, authorized sources and fieldwork when appropriate.

Location and GPS analysis

Analysis of locations, routes, coordinates and temporal coincidences from devices, records or data that the client is legally authorized to provide.

Family investigation

Support in family situations that require verification of facts, location, documentation, chronologies and organized collection of evidence.

Threats, harassment and blackmail

We investigate, identify and analyze possible threats, contact patterns and available evidence to document the case and strengthen your personal security.

Background Checks and verification

Detailed verification of personal, employment and financial backgrounds through public, authorized or legitimately provided information for the case.

Asset investigation

Search and analysis of asset information available in public or authorized sources, with traceability of sources and documentation of findings.

Vehicle investigation

Analysis of vehicles related to a case: plates, characteristics, photographs, observed locations, chronology and documented links.

► TECHNOLOGY APPLIED TO THE CASE

Analysis and evidence

We convert scattered information into an organized file: people, dates, locations, vehicles, documents, photographs and other related elements, differentiating documented facts from information pending verification.

Digital evidence analysis

Organization and analysis of files, records, photographs, videos, documents and data legally provided by the client.

Chronological reconstruction

We order events by date and time to reconstruct facts, detect relevant periods and present a clear and documented sequence.

Location analysis

Comparison of coordinates, schedules, routes and proximity between events when information has been legitimately obtained or provided.

Relationship analysis

We relate people, phones, emails, vehicles, locations and events present in the file to visualize relevant coincidences.

Fraud against individuals

Documentation and analysis of deceptions, impersonations, suspicious operations and evidence related to affectations to individuals.

Documentary support for legal matters

We organize chronologies, annexes and evidence to facilitate their review by the client, their lawyer or the competent authority.

Photographic and videographic documentation

Integration of legally obtained material into the file, with date, description, context and relationship with case events.

Final case report

Structured delivery of methodology, chronology, findings, evidence and annexes, avoiding presenting hypotheses as confirmed facts.

◆ Principle of legality: SAD does not offer unauthorized access to accounts, communications, devices, restricted databases or private location. The scope of each investigation depends on the authorization, legitimacy of the sources and applicable legal framework.

► HOW WE WORK

Investigation Process

Each matter begins with an evaluation of viability and scope. The objective is to obtain useful and documented information without compromising the privacy, security or legality of the case.

1

Confidential consultation

We know the case, the objective and the available information. We determine what can be investigated and under what conditions.

2

Scope and authorization

We define activities, times, costs, information processing and legal limits before starting.

3

Investigation and analysis

We integrate authorized sources, fieldwork when appropriate, digital analysis, chronology and evidence.

4

Report and evidence

We deliver documented results, annexes and a clear chronology so that the client can make their own decisions.

► SAD FILE

One case, all organized information

Digital file

Individuals, vehicles, documents, locations, notes and evidence gathered per case.

Evidence vault

Conservation of the original file, incorporation record and access control.

Coincidences

Identification of relationships between file elements without replacing the investigator's criteria.

Chronology

Events ordered by date and time to understand what happened and when.

Traceability of sources

Each relevant data can record origin, date and condition of verification.

Professional report

Structured results with findings, chronology, evidence and annexes.

► OUR WAY OF WORKING

Why SAD?

Specialized training

Criminological methodology, private investigation, systems and data analysis applied to private cases.

Applied technology

Tools to organize, compare and analyze legitimately provided or obtained information.

Coverage according to the case

We evaluate investigations in different locations in Mexico according to feasibility, scope and applicable requirements.

Confidentiality

The file is handled under access controls and confidentiality obligations agreed with the client.

Documented results

Findings are presented with context, sources and available evidence, differentiating facts from hypotheses.

Acting within the law

Clandestine access, interceptions or illicit obtaining of private data are not offered.

► PERSONAL PROTECTION

Information-based security

In cases of threats, blackmail, harassment or fraud, the objective is to preserve evidence, identify patterns, document facts and provide organized information that can be reviewed by legal advisors or authorities when appropriate.

♦ Confidentiality and personal data: The processing of information is limited to the legitimate objective of the case and the applicable powers and authorizations. The specific scopes are established before starting each investigation.
